- Matt asked why we have a different teacher for reading and language arts? Heather answered: it's nice to have two different teachers because it makes our prep more manageable and makes it so that we become the expert in the one topic/subject.

5. SCC Training Video Questions (Last Months Meeting)

- We have trust lands and Teacher and student success act. These are what we use to pay teachers and aids that we need to help us in our classrooms.
- There were no further questions on the SCC training video.

6. School Counselor Items: Sharla Barber

- Our school counselors teach in the classrooms called sources of strength 7 times a year.
- Sources of strength is a curriculum that was adopted by the board that helps students to see and know what areas they can rely on when they are going through a hard time.
- John brought up the fact that it's good this is being taught because there are some in his neighborhood that are not getting this at home so at least they are getting it in schools. It makes the neighborhood safer.

- Uscience is a score they look at for these CCRP's.
